THE BROOK

Somebody who lives upstream from me (at 1, Sling Orchard) cuts their water weed every year and just lets it float away - often accompanied by garden weeds and prickly prunings. There is a change this year as the cut weed is accompanied by several lawn's worth of grass cuttings - and it all gets grounded outside my house where the brook is at it's shallowest. This means that I have to get in the brook and move it all. I have done this 3 times already this year, in the last week or two, and now it needs clearing again!! Does anybody know who is responsible for this?

Please tell me if you do!

Many thanks, Beryl Paton (714343)

They're Back! Those wonderful Church Bulletins! These sentences actually appeared in church bulletins or were announced at church services:

At the evening service tonight, the sermon topic will be 'What Is Hell?' Come early and listen to our choir practice.

Eight new choir robes are currently needed due to the addition of several new members and to the deterioration of some older ones.

Please place your donation in the envelope along with the deceased person you want remembered.

The church will host an evening of fine dining, super entertainment and gracious hostility.

Status report

2 months in and the clinics are still quite busy – to date I have met nearly 500 patients and it has been a real pleasure hearing your stories as well as getting to grips with the medical matters to hand. Tony has settled in really well and is enjoying his Tuesday sessions. The computer system we use has been running very slowly for many weeks now, as well as freezing at unpredictable intervals during the day – apparently it is a national problem so we just have to get on as best we can for now.

Medications

There have been a few changes behind the scenes with medications – namely electronic prescriptions, and a slightly different approach to processing medication requests than before.

- For non-dispensing patients we are now able to send prescriptions electronically to Tisbury Boots and other chemists. This system is fast, accurate and it is easier to track what has happened with the prescription as the process is all trackable on our computers. This is a paper-free system so you do not need a green slip to collect your medication
- I am steadily reviewing all the repeat medication lists to ensure that the correct medications are “on repeat”. These medication reviews are to ensure that these repeat prescriptions are safe, relevant and that any monitoring you need has been done. As a result, if you have a medication on your repeat slip you can order it directly through System Online or via reception as these medications will have already been checked by me.
- If the medication is not on repeat then Sandy, Sue, Stella and Lucy will first pass a message to me to ask if this prescription can be issued. I will then double-check the request before issuing it. Sometimes this will be to improve safety, for example we may need to actually see you face to face first for a clinical assessment before prescribing. It can also act as a trigger to talk about new developments in treatment, discuss a safety concern about the medication, reinforce the need for appropriate monitoring, make some cost savings, point out where medications are fighting against each other, simplify medication regimes....the list goes on!

To fast or not to fast.....?

At least once a year we ask some patients to book in for a blood test – in the past many of you will have been asked to fast (i.e. nothing to eat from midnight the night before). This fasting blood test is no longer needed when we are monitoring cholesterol or diabetic control.

The latest advice on cholesterol testing is that fasting does not make any meaningful difference to the results; and with diabetes we now use a test called Hba1c to both make the diagnosis and monitor blood sugar control over time. Hba1c does not need a fasted sample to be valid.

There are many benefits to moving away from fasting blood tests where we can – not only is it inconvenient for you, but it can disrupt other routines with morning medications which in turn might actually cause harm. The nurse clinics are also much more relaxed if we are not trying to see everyone who has fasted first thing so that you can get home to have some breakfast and take morning medications.

Occasionally we will still need fasting samples – but if this is the case we will tell you specifically that you need to fast, and ensure that you are seen at the start of the morning clinic.

Tisbury Carnival Royals Crowning, Afternoon tea & Cake Bake Off

The crowning of the Tisbury Carnival Royals chosen at The Royals Disco in May will take place on Saturday 30th June 2018 at Hinton Hall, Church Street, Tisbury, SP3 6NH. It will be in the form of a Cake Bake Off with a 1950's theme served & supported by Tisbury Army Cadets. If you would like to come along to support a great cause & see The Royals for the first time then pop along at 3.00pm (until 6.00pm). It is free to enter our Cake Bake Off which will be judged by an impartial village advocate. To enter simply bring your cake(s) down on the day, which will be eaten by those who attend along with sandwiches, cakes & refreshments donated by local businesses & supporters of Tisbury Carnival. To cover our ongoing costs we are simply asking for donations on the day. The winner of the Bake Off will receive a certificate & small prize, so dust off those pinny's & shake the flour from your hair, we need to see what fantastic Cake Bakers Tisbury & the surrounding villages has to offer... We are also looking for old photo's of Tisbury Carnival to decorate the hall, if anyone has any it would be great to see them, we can copy them so your originals do not get damaged – It will be lovely for the younger members of the community to see the history of the carnival & the fun had throughout the years as well as reminiscing for those who were attended those processions. If you would like any more information, donate food or drink for the Afternoon Tea or have some photo's we could copy /use you can email us on

Stories of transformed lives in Dorset and Wiltshire

THE CHURCH OF ENGLAND
DIOCESE OF SALISBURY

2018 No. 5

A Devon-ly Village Church

"Being a troubleshooter is a part of the job. You never know what will turn up."

Jean Ransford has just started her third spell as churchwarden in St John the Baptist in Hawkchurch – the only Diocese of Salisbury parish in Devon.

"I grew up in Lyme Regis in different times. When my parents divorced, my mother was ostracised by many and expelled from the Mothers' Union.

"I didn't suffer as we were brought up by my Mum and my grandad together. He was a rock! He was a devoted church person and I picked that up from him.

"My mother always told me I needed to spend time in London, so I trained as a domestic science teacher there, where I met my husband Neil. We travelled round the country with work, and were both very church oriented.

"We moved back to this area in the '80s as Neil had elderly parents here, and naturally got involved in St John the Baptist. He was a Licensed Lay Minister, and did a tremendous amount around the team.

"Perhaps my most memorable job was dealing with the aftermath of the north roof blowing off in the 1987 hurricane!

"Neil died last July. We did so much together, including our church work, and I miss him awfully.

"This year, my partner warden is quite newly confirmed so I'm getting a chance to use my teaching skills!

"I like how practical the job is and I try to be at every service. I do often worry about how congregations have declined over my thirty years here, though."

Monthly Letter

The Rt Revd Nicholas Holtam
Bishop of Salisbury

We are made for goodness, although the state of the world can make us feel otherwise.

It was a long, grey, wet winter with a hot and cold but wet Spring.

Maybe I am just getting older but the weather was breaking records for one extreme after another. The summer sunshine and long days are very welcome.

Salisbury has had its problems recently. The impact of the nerve gas attack on the Skripals continues as the city seeks to recover its place as a destination for shoppers and tourists who want to enjoy a peaceful day out.

What took place here is being used internationally in ways that do not leave me feeling comforted.

What I want, and pray for, is peace between all people. The beautiful exhibition of origami doves in the cathedral expresses that and the city has responded positively.

Many shops have doves in their windows. The story we want to tell from Salisbury is of our overcoming terror and violence and making peace.

The international news of late has been grim – the opening of the US embassy in Jerusalem; the appalling violence in Gaza; the suicide bombing in Indonesia by families, including children; the continuing violence in Syria, Yemen, and Iraq... and so on and on and on.

It makes the way we live our daily lives all the more important as a response to the world.

We are made for goodness. Seek to build on it in whatever ways you can.

The Royal Wedding is helping to cheer the whole country up. In some ways that is pretty superficial but if it causes us to think about whom we love, to value relationships, and commit more deeply that is a very good thing.

The world gets changed by millions of small actions for good. Let's do it.

Happy Sixtieth For Pilsdon

A West Dorset community providing a Christian place of transformation and refuge in the heart of the countryside is celebrating its 60th anniversary.

Since 1958, the Pilsdon Community has been offering a refuge to people in crisis, welcoming those from all backgrounds and walks of life. As part of its anniversary celebrations, it is seeking to record experiences from anyone who has come into contact with it, as members, volunteers, or guests.

Mary Davies, who is co-ordinating the project says, "We'd like to help people mark their experiences without it being a chore. People can e-mail me at mdavies@pilsdon.org.uk to find out how or visit our stories website at www.stories.pilsdon.org.uk."

Keeping People Safe

"Safeguarding isn't a tickbox exercise. It's important to keep people safe."

Jane Hazell is a safeguarding representative for Canford Magna, one of the largest parishes in the diocese with three well-attended churches.

"My journey to this point started as a girl, when I went to church with my father in London. I don't know why, but we just stopped when I was twelve.

"When my son was a baby, I asked the local parish church about baptism. The curate asked me why, and I said I wanted him in God's family. From then on I got quite involved in church.

"We moved to Merley in 1990 and started going to Canford Magna Parish Church. I'd say this is where I really got to know the Lord, at an Alpha weekend.

"I was a secondary teacher with training in special needs and inclusion. I was employed as a safeguarding lead for a Bournemouth high school in the 2000s.

"When I retired, I was asked to take over the parish safeguarding role. At first I thought it would be a short-term thing, but I've been doing it since 2012.

"The parish has lots of young people's activities - Sunday groups and weekday mother and toddler groups in all three churches. We also have groups for older people who may be vulnerable.

"People go to church for many reasons. Most because they're Christians, some because they're lonely. Realistically, a

More Eco Church Awards

More parishes are celebrating Eco Church awards, including St Mary Longfleet in Poole, St Mary's, Beaminster (both bronze) and Holy Trinity, Bradford on Avon (silver).

The Eco Church awards scheme allows parishes to audit what they are doing and could do to care for God's creation.

Jane Jones, who led the project for Holy Trinity, Bradford on Avon, said, "This gave us a chance to look at how we could incorporate one of the Five Marks of Mission into the life of the Church. It brings to the fore how important it is to care for and teach about God's creation.

"It has also helped us save some money!"

few come with an ulterior motive.

"We need to have good systems in place to protect people from harm. We are all challenged in different ways. Safeguarding involves not putting people in a position where their vulnerabilities will cause problems.

"It can be hard work but also rewarding, for example, when people confide in you as they trust you and know you care. When I run safeguarding training, some people arrive unenthusiastic. By the time it's finished, they are much more positive about how important it is to have the right processes in place."

VILLAGE HALL FUN QUIZ 28 APRIL 2018

60 villagers and their friends attended the Village Hall Fun Quiz on Saturday 28th April. The 10 teams enjoyed five rounds of brainteasers set by Questionmaster Mike Carey with a welcome interval in the middle to devour a tasty hot supper provided by Cheryl Holloway (she does the highly-recommended Tuesday lunches in the Village Hall) followed by delicious puds donated by Hall Committee Members and their wives. The bar, run by Bruce Jones, maintained a brisk trade through the evening and Beryl Paton ran a well-received raffle, with prizes donated by Hall Committee Members and villagers – for which our grateful appreciation. Bernard Allnutt coped manfully with maintaining the scoreboard throughout the contest – no mean feat, as the event was noisy verging on raucous at times, such was the enthusiasm and commitment of those taking part ! With questions tailored to meet all abilities, the spread of total points between teams was commendably narrow, with the winners by 1 point “The Baggies” Team (pictured below all smiling).

Our thanks to all those who came to the event, and to the many people not specifically mentioned above who put time and effort into making the evening such a success.

'They Went to War'

General leads charge to November evening 'Sell-out'

Details are published in this edition of a special concert 'They Went To War' to be held on 2nd & 3rd November at Dinton Village Hall. General Sir Jack Deverell is part of a small team presenting an evening of music, song, readings and poetry of the Great War – the First World War as it later became known.

The Wilton Royal British Legion Band, conducted by Trevor Dacombe, and the 'Valley Choir' from Fovant, conducted by Brian White, will take part throughout the evening which is to celebrate the service of the men and women of the Nadder Valley who went to war in 1914 and to commemorate the lives of those who didn't return. The programme will give those who now live in the valley (East Knoyle to Wilton) the opportunity to reflect upon how the War affected the lives of those who lived here then. It will include a short Act of Remembrance and offer a rare chance for a rousing audience sing-song of still familiar songs from 100 years ago.

Sir Jack reports "since 2014 local people have shown great interest in events commemorating the 100th anniversary of the War – we believe that 'They went to War' will draw people together from the valley to hear what it was like to live through those four tumultuous years of war, both nationally and locally". He goes on "we have been amazed by the interest already shown by people. Tickets will be on sale from 1st August and we expect a sell-out on both nights". No doubt a date for our November diaries – full details will be announced in the Summer.

Nutrition and More

I learned a new word this week – Autophagy. I had seen it written before but had never bothered to investigate it. Talking to a friend the other day it came up in conversation because she had heard it in connection with maintaining health with fasting and intensive exercise on a programme on, she thought, BBC television.

Naturally I was interested and the next day received an email from her with a link to the BBC News website where there was an extremely interesting article headed "Can the science of Autophagy boost your health?" It defined autophagy as: "a natural regeneration process that occurs at a cellular level reducing the likelihood of contracting some diseases as well as prolonging lifespan in the body". It said the word autophagy comes from the Greek for "self" and "phagein", which means "to eat" and is the process by which cells degrade and recycle their components – or in other words do a complete "clean-up" of the contents of the cell to enable it to function more efficiently.

It went on to say that in 2016 a Japanese scientist called Yoshinori Ohsumi was awarded the Nobel Prize for his research into, and discoveries about, the mechanisms of autophagia. These have led to a better understanding of diseases such as Parkinson's and Dementia. Since then, drug companies and academics have raced to find drugs that will stimulate the process, (well, they would - wouldn't they?) and diet and wellness experts are claiming that the process can be induced naturally by fasting, high-intensity exercise and restricting carbohydrates.

I have known for some time that fasting, exercise and restricting carbohydrates can greatly improve health, but have not previously known the mechanism behind this. It is always very satisfying to find "mainstream" science catching up with so-called "alternative" (and therefore discredited?) ideas!

Fasting is talked about a lot these days. It has gone on, as part of religious rituals, since time immemorial and many characters in the Bible went out into the desert to fast. It has now become a "fad" – with different interpretations of how it should be done. There is even a diet (I had not heard of this before!) called OMAD – which stands for "One meal a day".

From what I read, and from personal experience, the most straightforward way of using fasting for improved health and maintaining optimal weight is "Intermittent Fasting". OMAD is an example of this but is quite severe. I prefer to maintain a period of at least 12 - but preferably up to 16 - hours in 24 without eating. This is relatively easy to achieve. I have my last meal of the day by 7 pm, have just a cup of tea (no milk or sugar) in the morning and then leave breakfast till about 10 when I get back from walking the dog. Sometimes I skip breakfast altogether and have "Brunch" at about 11 or 12.

The other bonus of doing things this way is that exercise is supposed to be more beneficial if it is done before the first meal of the day. Part of the reason for this is that the body is forced into burning its fat stores to use as fuel for the exercise and for the brain. This is the way things are supposed to work, but many of us have lost the ability to burn fat because of high carbohydrate diets and the belief has grown that only glucose (from carbohydrates) can be used to supply energy. This is not true!

It goes without saying that the 2/3 meals I do eat consist of freshly cooked or raw, nutrient dense, organic food. I don't find this a huge problem. I make a meal for myself and my son in the evening and often have homemade soup (based on my bone stock) at lunchtime or a mixed salad with meat, fish, eggs or cheese.

Good Health!

WILTSHIRE WEST COMMUNITY POLICING TEAM

TISBURY COMMUNITY AREA

Hello and welcome to the Community Policing Report for May 2018.

National Rural Crime Survey

The National Rural Crime Network brings together Police and Crime Commissioners, Police Forces, and other organisations that play a key role in rural communities such as the Country Land and Business Association, the National Farmers Union, Neighbourhood Watch, Crimestoppers, Historic England, and the Countryside Alliance. Periodically, the Network, as part of its research conducts a survey.

The last such survey was conducted three years ago. This revealed the huge cost of crime to our rural communities in financial terms, at £800 million a year, and in terms of increasing fear of crime. The survey also revealed significant under-reporting of crime.

In the light of the survey, the Network produced a series of recommendations and in many areas the police have indeed taken steps to improve matters. The Network now wants to find out just how much has changed and have thus embarked on a new survey.

Questions in the new survey cover a range of issues including whether victims actually report crimes that they or their businesses suffer, what impact crime and anti-social behaviour has on residents and their communities, and to what extent people believe enough is being done to catch those who commit the crimes.

The Police and Crime Commissioner for Wiltshire and Swindon, Mr Angus Macpherson said, "I hope that anyone living or working in a rural community will spare a few minutes to complete this survey. It will provide a clear picture of what has improved, what challenges remain and what more government, police forces and organisations can do to support the most isolated parts of the country.

One of the focuses this year, as we rerun the research, is whether rural crime continues to be under-reported. Three years ago, one in four said they didn't report the last crime they had suffered because they didn't see the point."

The survey is available to everyone and is open for submissions until Sunday 10th June 2018; please visit:

www.nationalruralcrimenetwork.net to submit a response.

The results of the survey will also feed into the National Police Chief's Council's Rural Affairs National Strategy for 2018-2021 that is due to be launched later this year.

Avoiding Thefts from Motor Vehicles

In recent weeks we have seen an increase in reports of theft from motor vehicles. We would like to take this opportunity to remind readers of the following crime prevention advice:

Ideally, don't leave anything in your car - if an item is not there, then it can't be stolen!

Thieves aren't picky - so don't leave even low-value items in your car. Often the thieves will smash and grab first and look later to see if what they've stolen is valuable. A jacket or coat left behind may be of very little value to you, but a thief may think it has been used to hide a laptop or handbag, and will break into your vehicle to find out.

Especially, don't leave valuables in your car even for a minute - it only takes thieves a few seconds to smash a window and get what they want, so don't take the chance. And don't leave your house keys in your vehicle or anything with your address on - someone could steal your keys and then enter your home.

If you cannot avoid leaving something in your car, put it in your boot before you begin your journey. Don't just hide it - if you hide items under the seat or in the glove box, the chances are someone will have seen you do so. And think about what you really need with you and leave everything else at home.

Always secure and lock your car and wind your windows up, even if you are just posting a letter or entering a petrol station.

Get a car alarm - not only does an alarm deter a thief from stealing the car, but also from stealing items from within.

Immobilisers prevent the engine from starting if an attempt is being made to steal the car.

When visiting a Beauty Spot try to park in a sign-posted parking area.

Be cautious about parking your car in isolation, thieves can be put off when other people are about.

And while you're enjoying the sights make sure you have your bag and possessions with you.

Fovant CC Lottery Results – March & April

Having lost our one and only friendly to Dinton due to the weather, Fovant were to go into the first midweek league game vs Berwick, somewhat unprepared! For most, it was their first outing of the season and in chilly and dark conditions it was likely to be about the result rather than the performance. However, when Berwick were put in to bat, Fovant were quick to put them under pressure thanks to an opening spell by James Wade. Wickets were to fall quickly and with no Berwick batsman making double figures, the hosts were able to give a bowl to all 10 outfield players. The visitors were to be bowled out for 79 in the final over, Everitt 2-9 in 2 overs.

In reply openers Matt Boatwright and Dan Syckelmoore batted nicely together putting anything loose away to the boundary. With both finishing on 20 and 30 not out respectively, added to a generous 30 extras, Fovant wrapped up the win with 4 overs remaining. A comprehensive start to their quest in regaining the Tuesday League.

Onto the lottery and with the shares at 80 for both March and April, the results were as follows:

March:

- 1st Prize : (30) Martyn White - £16.00
- 2nd Prize : (79) Marieke Edge - £12.00
- 3rd Prize : (67) Cheryl Quick - £9.00

April:

- 1st Prize : (88) Trevor Pittman - £16.00

Filgroup Meeting April

With his usual easy manner David Haselgrove gave the Filgroup members and their guests a humorous insight into the years of hard work it took to develop his previous garden and the stunning results he was able to achieve. Starting from scratch on a bare three and a half acre plot consisting of clay and chalk soil and no drainage, he managed to gradually create the sort of garden most of us simply pay to visit, with large woodland areas, a formal cloister garden, colourful flower beds and beautiful plants from all over the world. Along the way he was ably assisted by his long suffering wife Celia, (especially it would seem at bulb planting time) and his sense of humour. After twenty years and 'downsizing' to Fovant one wonders how they had the energy to start again but as many of us know their present garden now has the Haselgrove stamp on it with new trees, exotic flower beds and interesting sculptures. Thank you, David, for sharing with us your expertise and infectious enthusiasm.

For more information on the Filgroup and future events, please email filgroup15@gmail.com.

Crime Exceptions

These figures are based on an evaluation of data, over a two year rolling period. Using this data we can predict what figure is the average that should be reported in a specific month, and what are the higher and lower parameters that we might expect. Figures outside of these parameters are classed as 'Crime Exceptions'.

During the month of April, no individual crime type is showing as an exception for the Tisbury area.

Crime as a whole is showing considerably lower than we would expect to see, with an average of 17.5 crimes recorded a month - April saw 9 crimes recorded.

Offences of theft show an average of 3.6 offences a month - April showed a slight decrease to 3 recorded offences.

Offences of violence against the person show an average of 5 offences a month - April showed a decrease to 2 offences.

Offences of burglary show an average of 3.4 offences a month - April showed a decrease to only one offence.

Vehicles offences show an average of 4 offences a month - April showed a decrease to one offence.

Community Policing Priorities

Theft from motor vehicles has been raised as a priority across the Wiltshire West Community Policing Team. This includes the Tisbury area, as well as beauty spot locations in Warminster Rural, and Mere.

An increase in reports of trespass, criminal damage, and theft from the Regional Government HQ bunker, and from RAF Chilmark, has also led to this being adopted as a priority.

After a cold early spring and a series of mini heat waves in April and early May, maybe, by now, we will have settled into something like a “normal” British summer? What would that look like I wonder, it seems so long since we had one! Nature is wonderful at adapting to the weather, and the flowers in my garden as I write do seem to have coped with it, and the swallows came right on cue in Hindon Church porch and in my neighbour’s garage. Let’s hope they breed in all those places where they nest and raise broods to carry on singing to the glory of God.

June is always a good time to take stock. The great festivals of Easter and Pentecost are past and we have just celebrated Trinity Sunday. The Trinity is one of the greatest and the most complex parts of our understanding of God. How can God be both three and one? I know many ask this and don’t always get an answer that they can understand. This is not the place to try to get to grips with this concept, but perhaps those of you who are into maths might like to imagine 3 circles, all overlapping in the middle and that middle, being God, is greater than the separate parts?

We are in Trinity season in the church; the altar, like Nature, is clothed in green and this month we celebrate a host of saints days, the majority ones from these islands.

The one I feel most connected to is St. Columba, 9th June. Columba, otherwise known as Colum Cille, which means ‘Dove of the Church’, was born in Ireland in 521, a descendant of the pagan High King, Niall. He founded two monasteries in Ireland, at Derry (546) and Durrow (556), before sailing to Iona, off the west coast of Scotland, with twelve companions, possibly exiled because of his part in a battle in Ireland. Hereafter, he spent much of his energy setting up the monastery at Iona and training its members. His community on Iona was influential in the spread of Christianity in Scotland and Northumbria, where some of his followers colonised Lindisfarne, aka Holy Island and a number of them became important saints themselves. The whole Celtic church and many today owe their faith to his influence and what is known as Celtic Christianity is his legacy in these islands, a movement which today concentrates on a better understanding of our relationship with the earth, creation and nurturing the land on which we live. He wrote,

At once, when the stars were made, lights of the firmament, the angels praised for His wonderful creating the Lord of this immense mass, the craftsman of the Heavens.
With a praiseworthy proclamation, fitting and unchanging, in excellent symphony they gave thanks to the Lord not out of any endowment of nature, but out of love and choice.
(Altus prosator. attrib. Columba)

I hope to lead a group to visit Iona Abbey in the New Year, after Easter. If you are interested, why don’t you call me?

Rev Mark Hayter.
