Seasons of mists and mellow fruitfulness
Close bosom-friend of the maturing sun
Conspiring with him how to load and bless
With fruit the vines that round the thatch-eves run;
To bend with apples the moss'd cottage-trees,
And fill all fruit with ripeness to the core;

John Keats "To Autumn"

I've always associated that poem with October rather than September, or November. September is too much about returning to school, I was after all a schoolmaster for over 30 years, and November has the habit of turning cold and dank, and that does no good for the ripening vine and if the weather turns windy the poor apple trees will lose all their fruits. October, on the other hand, holds the possibility of that golden light that goes with Autumn. As the nights draw in so the memories of those summer holidays fade and with the Harvest festival season at its height, we can turn once more to hearth and home.

In my childhood memories this was the month of the apple, but in other countries it is probably more the month of the grape harvest, and it is therefore the month which best epitomises the coming together of churches, to celebrate, as the grape harvest prepares us for sharing the Eucharist in Church.

We are still in Trinity season, green is still on the altar, even though it is fading on the trees, and the saints that we celebrate seem often to come in pairs. Well, not Luke whose day is the 18th, but the martyrs Ridley and Latimer, Crispin and Crispinian, (memories of Shakespeare's Henry Vth?) and Sts Simon and Jude are the most noted saints days, leading, as we know, up to All Hallows', aka All Saints day and Brexit. I think we are going to need all our help from those saints as we face what, at the time I write, look more likely to be a disaster than a triumph in this country, whatever the outcome.

Never more than now will we need that sense of community which epitomises the best of our church life with the prospect of standing alone against the world, with No Deal as the most likely outcome, whether we believe our destiny is to leave or to remain?

Whatever, we must remember that Britain and Ireland have always been a geological part of Europe, from the days of the early saints, when much of England, as well as lowland Scotland were converted by saints from our neighbouring island. People such as Columba, Aidan and Cuthbert brought Christianity to the North, long before the Pope sent emissaries to the south and made our Christian history more linked with the rest of the continent.

The sea is our link with Europe and the world, so let us not believe that we should, as in past wars, think of it as a means of separation. We are all one in Christ after all, and he believes us all equally worthy of love whatever the colour of our skin, the nature of our politics or the size of our ego! So let's really try to make whatever happens work, together.

Mark Hayter

NEWSLETTER FOVANT SURGERY

Flu immunisation

If you are eligible for the annual flu jab, please come along to the Village Hall in Fovant on 19th October (Saturday morning). The session will run from 09:00 to 12:00. The aim is to immunise 70% of the eligible population as this provides herd immunity to the rest of the population who will not be offered a flu jab – so even if you think aren't personally affected by flu, you will play your part in reducing overall flu rates for our population by having a flu jab this year. Please have it!

We are also holding a MacMillan coffee morning at the same time which anyone is welcome to. Cake and a cup of tea, with funds going to help improve cancer care. Donations of cakes are most welcome!

Appointments

The trial of pre-booked nurse appointments has been successful. We have noticed that the waiting room is markedly less crowded in the mornings, and our nurses are seeing more people as a result of being able to plan ahead.

So in future – nurse appointments will be pre-booked, and (in line with your consistent feedback and its obvious popularity) the GP clinics will continue to be a drop in service.

Thank you all for your flexibility as we have all adjusted to this new approach.

We are now using a centrifuge to spin blood samples, so that they don't need to go through to the lab within 4 hours of taking the sample. This means that blood tests can be done at any time of the day, and for our next project we hope to extend the times we can provide blood tests to make it less disruptive for people, especially workers, to get routine blood samples taken.

St George's 50/50 Club – The Fovant Lottery

November 2019- October 2020

Thank you to all those who have supported the lottery during the present cycle of 12 draws which will end with the draw on 17 October. We hope that you will rejoin for the draws in the following 12 months and that we shall also be welcoming new members.

An application form for the next 12 draws will be delivered to every household in the first week of October.

As many of you already know the lottery helps to ensure that we continue to have our church building in Fovant. 50% of the money raised is used as prize money and the other 50% is used to help maintain St George's Church building and churchyard. With your help this year we have been able to contribute over £800 towards the continuous and considerable costs of maintaining our ancient building.

All members of the 50/50 Club have an equal chance of winning a prize in the monthly draws. THE LARGER THE NUMBER OF MEMBERS/SHARES PURCHASED, THE GREATER THE SIZE OF THE PRIZES!

The first draw of the new session will be on 14 November. PLEASE REMEMBER THAT THE NEW APPLICATION FORM MUST BE RETURNED BEFORE 31 OCTOBER IF YOUR NUMBER IS TO BE INCLUDED IN THE DRAW.

Rules of the 50/50 Club

1. The cost of a 'share' is £12 for the next 12 draws (£1 per month) which must be paid in advance by 31 October.
2. Each household may purchase up to 4 shares, each allocated to a named person. No person under the age of sixteen may be named as a shareholder.
3. The Club needs a minimum of 100 shares to be purchased if there are to be worthwhile prizes. If there are fewer the lottery will be cancelled and the money collected will be returned to the purchasers.
4. A number will be allocated to each share. The draw will take place in the village Hall during the weekly coffee morning, normally on the second Thursday in the month. Prizewinning numbers will be announced then and winners notified individually. Winning numbers will also be published in Three Towers.
5. 50% of the money subscribed (less costs of printing etc., annual lottery licence) will be given out as prizes at each draw. The remaining 50% will be used for the maintenance of St George's church fabric and the churchyard.
6. The accounts shall be subject to annual inspection by an independent person.

Compton Chamberlayne

On the afternoon of Friday 16th August at Compton Chamberlayne church, six local people rang a Quarter peal of Bob Doubles method, which lasts approximately 45 minutes. This was rung to celebrate Alice's graduation. Ringers were Rosemary Pegrum, Alice Nield, Ian Davidson, Pat Davidson, Simon Ford and David Whatley.

The following day, the tower was open from 11am for one hour as part of a fundraising day for a bellringing charity LEBRF. Many visitors were welcomed from far and wide, Crewe, Kent, Essex and some closer to home. The visitors could ring at 25 towers in the area. Funds raised help towards bell restoration in churches.

Nadder Oil Buying Club - Sept Newsletter

Cooler weather is approaching, so here are some thoughts. If possible manage your tank from full to full rather than leaving it to run down before reordering. This avoids embarrassing panics when there is a cold snap and oil levels drop much more quickly than normal.

Membership We now have 825 members ordering for 926 tanks in the area around Salisbury and Shaftesbury. See below if you have friends in Somerset. Prices Our prices are consistently the cheapest and that includes comparison with the on line suppliers some of whom add on a surreptitious 'admin surcharge'. The end of August deliveries were being fulfilled at 45.5ppl plus 5% VAT. It's not possible to forecast which way prices will move. World Events as well as the laws of Supply and Demand are the key drivers here and refinery prices move daily. If, when you receive your order confirmation, you can buy better, just drop me an email within 24 hours of receiving the confirmation and I will cancel your order.

Tanker sizes The majority of tankers are six wheelers carrying around 20,000 litres. These are highly manoeuvrable especially when they have rear wheel steering. However, if you need a very small tanker which carries only 5,000 litres, then you may suffer a surcharge of around 3ppl as the supplying companies only have one or two of these and their cost of delivery is higher. Urgent deliveries If you change your order from Standard to Urgent in the drop down box, you will receive your order in the first few days of that fortnight's delivery window.

Top Ups If you tick the fill up box in the drop down box on the order page, the delivery driver will try and fill your tank if he has surplus oil. Surpluses occur on the tanker when people order more than their tank will hold. However, do remember that we order oil twice a month, so if your usage suddenly became very heavy you can order again in the next fortnight.

Suppliers We use four different suppliers who, by and large, give us a very good service, because they are delivering NOBC orders in a very small area which keeps their cost of delivery right down. It also means fewer tankers on our roads.

Payment The quid pro quo for very cheap prices is that members are expected to pay invoices within seven days. If a supplier has already delivered to you, you will normally be expected to pay within seven days of delivery. If you are a new customer to a particular supplier, then you may be asked to pay up front for your first order.

Feedback We are always keen to get both positive and negative feedback from members. This can be emailed to richard.willan@me.com

Tanks Please remember to keep your tank in good order as it is illegal for the suppliers to deliver to tanks which they feel may leak. Southern Tank Services on the A30 at Swallowcliffe are a useful contact for maintenance issues mail@tankservices.co.uk

Emergency deliveries It is always worth emailing me if you find yourself needing oil urgently as there may be a tanker in your area. If we can help out, we do and we don't charge a premium! However, the best advice is to keep your tank topped up!

Budget Scheme We have set up a budget scheme so that members can pay for their oil over twelve months. Please email richard.willan@me.com for details of the scheme

More Members Do please feel free to circulate this note as widely as you can. The more members we have, the more the suppliers like us and the sharper their pricing. Somerset Oil Buying Club September sees the start of a new Oil Buying Club in Somerset. If you have oil using friends or relatives in Somerset, please encourage them to sign up to somerset.oilbuyingclub.com. Despite initial orders being small, the suppliers have agreed to supply SOBC at the same very good rates as NOBC.

Best wishes for the Autumn.

Richard Willan

The organiser, Positive Nature, is a Wiltshire-based not-for-profit organisation which celebrates the wonder and vital importance of the natural world and promotes sustainable living and well-being. It has been set up in a spirit of optimism for the future by its Teffont-based founder after successfully going through cancer treatment with the philosophy that we can all make a positive difference.

Rainforest Concern, the recipient for funds raised, protects threatened natural habitats, the biodiversity they contain and the indigenous people who depend on them for their future. ### PRIORITIES FOR WILTSHIRE WEST CPT

Hare Coursing: PCSO Turnbull reports that the Hare Coursing season is upon us again and that those involved are often connected with other types of Rural Crime. Under the Hunting Act 2004 it is illegal to participate, attend, knowingly facilitate or permit land to be used for a hare coursing event.

Hare coursing with Lurchers or Greyhounds - generally referred to as 'Sighthounds' - involves dogs pursuing a live hare. Bets are placed on whether a dog will turn or catch the hare. The Hare coursers sometimes use vehicles to flush the hares out and then they throw a dog out of the vehicle. At other times the coursers will park and walk, and then release a dog

If coursing is seen to be taking place please contact the police on '999' at once and quote "OP ARTEMIS"

When doing so please try to provide as much detail as possible to help officers deal effectively with the crime. Things that are useful include:

- Date and time of incident even if you are reporting on 101 retrospectively
- The location of the incident
- The number of people involved, their ages, a description of their appearance and clothing
- Their vehicles noting, if possible, the make, model and colour of the vehicle, and index or even part of the index
- Any Items seen within vehicles
- The breed, colour, and number of dogs
- A description of what the occupants and dogs are doing
- And any arrival or departure routes the offenders take.

HIGH LEVEL UPDATES FROM THE POLICE AND CRIME COMMISSIONER

Recruitment - A national recruitment campaign has now begun to recruit the additional officers promised by Prime Minister Boris Johnson. We still don't know what numbers we should expect in Wiltshire and await further detail from the Home Secretary.

- Mental Health - In recent years Wiltshire Police has seen an increase of almost 300 per cent in incidents related to mental health. In part, this is because of additional training of officers in mental health and also of our mental health triage team that sit alongside call handlers to help them correctly assess and categorise these types of incidents. We have built strong working relationships with our partners and, as PCC, I will continue to challenge them to make sure that any gaps in mental health provisions are addressed.

Annual Report - My annual report for 2018/19 has recently been published and can be found on my website. The report records the work of my office and of the police against the priorities I set. Highlights include officer recruitment, public engagement and the development of cyber-crime team.

HIGH LEVEL FORCE UPDATES

Force Management Statement - We have recently published a 20-page document that gives the public an easy to read summary of our Force Management Statement 2019. It is available on our website and breaks down the challenges and demands facing Wiltshire Police and what we are doing to combat them. We are encouraging people to make sure they read it to get more of an insight into modern policing.

Tasers - There has been a national focus on officer safety over recent weeks, particularly around the debate about training more police officers to carry Tasers. This is a complex issue, and our Chief Constable and Police and Crime Commissioner are closely following a national evidence-based review into the matter. Updates on this will be published on our website.

Who You Gonna Call? - A social media campaign has been taking place throughout August to highlight the demand on our 101 and 999 call handlers. It has been designed to educate the public about the best ways to contact police, whether that be over the phone or online, and when it is more appropriate to contact partner agencies such as the local authority or someone is seriously injured or is in immediate danger it is, of course, an emergency so then please call 999. Please have a look at our Facebook and Twitter pages for more information.

Nutrition Matters

As the sun sinks lower in the sky and shines for fewer hours each day many of us run the risk of becoming deficient in Vitamin D. Does this matter? Yes it does! There is much research being published at present which links low levels of vitamin D in the body to increased vulnerability to various diseases including osteoporosis and other skeletal problems, certain cancers, heart and blood vessel diseases, auto-immune disorders and infectious diseases like 'flu. It is fairly straightforward to test for vitamin D levels, your doctor may be able to advise you about this if you need more information.

Vitamin D is an interesting substance which is really more like a hormone than a vitamin because the body is able to manufacture it from the action of Ultraviolet B radiation, from sunlight, on a form of cholesterol present in skin cells. It is necessary for multiple processes in the body. We do get a certain amount from dietary sources such as oily fish, butter, egg yolks, liver and some fortified foods but the vast majority comes from the sun.

For those of us who live further from the equator, including in the UK, this poses problems in the winter months. The angle at which the sun's rays hit the earth, the decreasing strength of the rays and increased cloud cover all contribute to the fact that we are only able to produce minimal amounts then. People with darker skin pigmentation have even more problems and our ability to manufacture vitamin D decreases as we age. In fact the studies mentioned above state that the majority of adults living in industrialized nations have lower than desirable levels of vitamin D for most of the year.

When you think about it, this can be explained by our increasingly indoor lifestyles (window glass blocks vitamin D production) and the fact that we have been encouraged to avoid the sun in recent years. Obviously it is extremely important to avoid getting sunburnt, which can damage the skin and produce potentially serious problems, but getting a "healthy tan" is exactly that – healthy! Vitamin D can only be produced by the action of sunlight on bare skin – factor 15 sunblock reduces the production of Vitamin D by over 90%, so the best way to avoid sunburn in strong summer sunshine is to seek shade and cover up if our skin starts to get pink.

An excellent and informative book about this is "The Healing Sun" by Richard Hobday.

However, all that does not help in the approaching winter. It is advisable to seek dietary sources of vitamin D to top up what has been saved and stored from the summer sun. The foods listed above are all good, and it is possible to buy supplements of Vitamin D 3 – I use one which also has vitamin K2 as they both help each other. The best natural source of vitamin D is cod liver oil. Our parents and grandparents often used to take it regularly in the winter months and the Government supplied it for pregnant mothers and young children when I was at that stage of my life. The problem was the taste!!

Nowadays cod liver oil is obtainable in capsule form – often fortified with extra vitamins A and D because some of these are lost during processing. I always go for the type which is only fortified with vitamin D because there are worries about overdosing with vitamin A. I also only buy oil which has been cleaned of all the toxins to which the fish have been subjected in our polluted seas. If the label does not tell you clearly that it has been cleaned (many do) the only way to find out is to ask the manufacturers. Fish liver oils can be whisked up with fruit juices for young children and they are also a source of Omega 3 Essential Fatty Acids – essential for the health of our brains and much more!

Good Health!
