Editorial

Historically, and according to Dr. Steve Roud from his book "The English Year", Twelfth Night was celebrated at a gathering of friends by taking on characters for the evening and eating cake. Samuel Pepys, in 1666 wrote:

I did bring out my cake, and a noble cake, and there cut into pieces with wine and good drink, and, after a new fashion to prevent spoiling the cake, did put so many titles into a hat and so draw cuts; and I was the Queen and the Turner, King; Creed was Sir Martin Marrall; and Betty was Mrs Millicent. And so we were merry till it was night.

Marrall and Millicent were characters in John Dryden's "Sir Martin Marrall", a popular comedy of the period.

We will be celebrating our 12th Night by removing the decorations and storing them for another year and our Christmas cake will be long gone by then.

Happy New Year!

That is all that we should be in a Night's Amuse;

MAIDEN BRADLEY CAROL SINGERS

£122 raised for Dorothy House Hospice!

Despite Storm Barbara there was a good turnout to hear the carols and nearly everyone joined in! Undoubtedly helped by the excellent mulled wine which Sue offered to everyone. Hot chocolate and mince pies were added fortification! Thank you to Sue for letting the carol singers, accompanied by Sue Priestner on her piano accordion, sing at the shop and entertaining everyone so well.

2016 Reflections – Pat Kennedy

“Time it was, and what a time it was, a time of innocence, a time of confidences. Long ago, it must be, I have a photograph, preserve your memories, they’re all that’s left you.”

Simon and Garfunkel.

Like Brian Glastonbury before me, I keep each copy of the News in a box in the office and I thought to reflect on the year past just to remind me of the variety of activities this small Wiltshire village engages in.

Jeff Stevens held a competition to name the Charolais calf and James Kennedy produced “Deckchairs” both raising money in support of the Memorial Hall. Artist Jules Horn held a much acclaimed Creative Workshop and many turned out to do a litter pick of the village. News from Whitesheet Academy produced many interesting articles about the activities of the schoolchildren throughout the year and I find it hard to believe that it was last April that we watched “The Lady in the Van” at the wine club in the Hall.

Individuals have brought in much needed funds and labour to the Memorial Hall. Tom Blay worked extensively on the decoration and repair to the windows and roof and Graham Smart works constantly below radar, ensuring a seamless high standard of ‘hire’ to all. Brenda Smart has transformed the ambience of the Hall by her careful choice of décor. Mary Stevens, Pearl Hudson, Brenda and Tom Allday manage the Coffee Mornings and other events requiring refreshments, raffles etc.

The Community Shop has been transformed this year with a new awning, coffee shop and rationalisation of stock brought in by the new manager Sue Worrell. Keep supporting this wonderful amenity – use it, or lose it!

Not many of us know what the responsibility of being a Parish Councillor entails. It is not until one becomes a Councillor is it fully understood, but we should be grateful to those who take on this role and manage the Civic duties on behalf of the village.

I suspect that like me, you enjoy the Flower Festival held either at the Church or, by kind permission of The Duke, in Bradley House. Flower arrangements by the talented ladies of the village (no men to my knowledge) bringing funds in support of the church.

The Annual Art Festival is a treat with so many talented villagers exhibiting. Paintings, greetings cards, photographs, jewellery and beautifully sculptured wooden bowls and vases – all made here in our village.

I will not forget the pageantry of the balloons as they flew overhead on several days last September, the endurance of Ray and Carol Kenzie as they undertake their cycle rides for charity, the constant support from those who deliver this magazine, the fabulous evening's entertainment from Tom Allday reciting from Charles Dickens (more PLEASE Tom) and Sam Higgins managing the very young members of the village and surrounding areas to weekly Mother and Toddler meetings and Christmas festivities.

There are other members of the village who garden outside of their boundaries, in order to keep the village looking tidy. Colin Dowson has managed the churchyard for many years and could now do with some help this coming year. Should enough people come forward to mow the churchyard, a rota could be established, thus reducing the burden on individuals.

This is our village, the highest above sea level in Wiltshire, a haven for wildlife and a home for us all.

LUNCHEON CLUB

Horningsham and Maiden Bradley Christmas Lunch took place on Thursday 14th December. A large group of people, including Luncheon Club members, cooks and guests, gathered for a delicious traditional meal cooked by Kim and Rosie. As well as roast turkey, this included canapés and wine, mince pies and chocolates with a delicious steamy Christmas pudding made by Fran.

Several helpers efficiently served the food and cleared away afterwards and Grace was said by Rev Pauline.

Over coffee and mints, we were entertained to a medley of Christmas songs and carols by Horningsham schoolchildren.

The lunch finished with a raffle with a seasonal theme by Tom.

Carole Hill

I would like to say a big thank you to Hopkins of Wincanton for donating gravel for the Church Path, and also to Mike Lucy's for helping me wheelbarrow it in and laying it.

News from the Memorial Hall

The committee would like to extend its thanks to those who have supported the many events at the Memorial Hall during 2016. As a result of this support more funds have been added to the fund for the restoration of the roof which we hope will take place during 2017 with the added aid of Lottery money.

Events for the near future:

- 13.01.2017 Film Night – Ab Fab
- 17.02.2017 Film Night – Eddie the Eagle
- 18.03.2017 Country & Western evening in aid of the Salisbury Hospice
- 15.04.2017 Exhibition of Art and Pottery by Adi Roache's late father

Don't forget our weekly coffee mornings at the Memorial Hall from 10 to 12noon; Mother and Toddlers takes place on Tuesday mornings 10 to 12 noon – a good opportunity for mums of young children to get together and for the children to socialise all in a great village setting.

Mel and the committee wish everyone a happy and healthy New Year

Scottish & Southern Electricity Works

They are approaching Parish Councils in the Wiltshire/Hampshire area to try to ascertain the level of people within the parish that may require a little extra help or assistance should the parish suffer a power outage in the forthcoming winter months. Scottish and Southern Electricity Networks is looking to highlight those people within the parish that would need assistance and ask them if they would like to be registered with them so they can come out and ensure they are looked after during a sustained outage. It is a free service, and any information provided is strictly confidential.

The company work closely with the Council and together have registered many people in the last 12 months but they are aware there are many more vulnerable people that are not registered. Those people they have registered will now be highlighted to the team should there be a power outage affecting them. They will ensure that every effort is made to support them and where possible provide assistance from generating their house to offering hot meals, drinks and reassurance. In addition their Emergency Service Centre will call them during the outage, checking they are ok and giving them updates on the estimated time of power restoration.

Registration is quick and simple to do and parishioners are encouraged to make contact. It can be done online, on the phone. Call 0800 294 3259 If you are calling from a mobile call 0345 072 1900 or 0800 316 5457 for text phone or on www.ssepd.co.uk/PriorityServicesRegister
